

Tanenbaum Change in Leadership

With so much change in the world around us, Tanenbaum is proud to contribute a positive change to these shifts. On June 1st, former Deputy CEO, Mark Fowler, stepped into the role of CEO, succeeding longtime CEO, Joyce Dubensky. While Joyce remains involved with Tanenbaum as CEO Emerita and Senior Strategic Advisor, Mark is quickly and adeptly adapting to his role in these challenging times.

There's Work to Do

People all over the world are taking to the streets to decry racism and police brutality. As you process your own thoughts and emotions during this time of trouble and transformation, know that there are actions you can take to move the needle towards justice. Read CEO Mark Fowler's statement, There's Work to Do, and review our list of faith-based organizations actively involved in anti-racism work! If there are religious/spiritual communities or organizations that are actively engaging in anti-racism work, please share them with us and we'll share with our broader community.
