

We Asked—And You Answered

WHAT YOU'RE SAYING ABOUT TANENBAUM'S COMBATING EXTREMISM CAMPAIGN!

We asked our readers to tell us what they thought about Tanenbaum's Combating Extremism Campaign. You had a lot to say.

1) Combating Extremism materials are useful and readers share them—with family, colleagues, community members and teachers!

- 80% of respondents say they've shared our Combating Extremism materials.
- 50% of respondents shared them with work colleagues.
- 40% of respondents shared them with family, teachers, and community members.

2) Some subjects were of more interest than others, including...

- White Nationalism White Supremacy: An Overview
- Charlottesville Reflections on Charlottesville
- Islam Diversity in Islam
- Rohingya Genocide A Q&A on the Rohingya Crisis & Buddhist Extremism in Myanmar

3) Some respondents were surprised by what they learned from the campaign.

- I was most surprised to realize that I “fell for the media trap too easily.”
- I was most surprised to find that the materials showed “fairness and support for Muslims.”
- I was most surprised by “the factuality and context breakdown.”

4) > 55% of respondents believe education is the most important tool for combating extremism.

5) > 70% of respondents say that the Combating Extremism Campaign “Gives me hope that we can overcome our differences!”

Find facts, hope and surprises by clicking here! Together, we can build a world where differences are respected!